VOLUME XXIII

COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1919.

NUMBER 10.

A Great Opportunity for the People of Columbia and Adair Co.

Never before in the history of the county has an opportunity been presented to our citizens for the upbuilding of the community as is offered through the medium of Oil and Gas development, which is now being agitated in earnest in our midst. Many Oil men have been attracted to this section in days gone by, but nothing definite has been done until now, when the local people are being taken into the business on the "Ground Floor" Basis. We refer you to the Trico Oil & Refining Company, a Kentucky Corporation, with its Home Office, and General Headquarters here in Columbia, and which is controlled by our own people. Messrs. D. P. Weeks and E. T. Kemper, of Danville, Ky., experienced Oil men, are the active outsiders in the proposition, and they have associated with them such well-known and prominent men as Judge W. W. Jones, who is Vice President of the Company, John W. Flowers, Treasurer, and these gentlemen together with J. O. Russell, T. E. Jeffries and H. A. Walker constitute the Board of seven Directors. The local men will be in absolute control of the Company. The preliminary work has already been completed and the raising of funds for the initial or test well is being pushed as fast as possible. No Commissions are to be paid on any local stock sales, and no salaries will be paid to anyone until the Company is producing Oil in paying quantities, so that every dollar put into the proposition will be spent for development purposes only. There is no question in the minds of the best posted Oil men but that this section is underlaid with rich pools of Oil and Gas, and all that is needed to bring it to light is a few thousands of dollars judiciously expended in drilling operations, and the sooner this money is available the sooner the "Boom" will be on, and the sooner our people in all lines of business, and our property owners will begin to reap results. For just as soon as the first drilling rig is in operation in our midst then the tide will begin to turn this way, and everyone in the locality will be greatly benefitted in one way or another. Then, too, as soon as our Home Company makes a "Strike," as they have every reason to believe they will, in the manufacture, outside Capital will begin to flow freely into our midst, and untold benefits will follow rapidly. Never before in the history of the world has there been such a demand for crude Oil and Gas, the demand is increasing daily, and prices are advancing rapidly. The fact is, the demand is far in excess of the supply. We urge upon our citizens to read very carefully the Trico Company Advertisement, appearing on another page of this paper, and we trust you will then make up your minds to take advantage of this great opportunity not only to assist in making a success of this unusual local enterprise, but also to have a safe and profitable investment right at home, with your home bankers handling your money. Can you afford to turn down the proposition?

The union meeting at the Presbyterian church, Sunday night, was not largely attended, on account of the weather. Talks were made by Rev. Watson and Eld Williams, and ninety-five dollars raised for the suffering Armenians and Syrians.

Alexander Murrell, Champaign, Ill., writes us that his corn crop was fairly good. He sold 5,000 bushels at $1.35, which netted him $6,500. Winter wheat, he says looks well. He will spend the remainder of the winter in Florida.

Weather and health permitting, Mr. R. L. Davis and his sister-in-law, Miss Mollie Caldwell, will leave for Warren and Hardin counties this week to look at farm lands with the view of buying.

Miss Rose Hunt has accepted a position with the Columbia Telephone Company, and is now at the board.

Death of Ed Vigus.

W. E. Vigus, 73 years of age, veteran Associated Press manager, newspaper man, and later chief clerk of the lower house of the legislature and deputy county auditor, died yesterday afternoon at his home in the Stewart apartments. He was taken suddenly ill three months ago.

Mr. Vigus came to Salt Lake in 1894, opening the first office of the Associated Press here. Although he was employed by the Associated Press in opening offices in various parts of the country, he was asked to become Salt Lake correspondent. This position he held for eight years. He was the first city editor of the Salt Lake Telegram. Later he was chief clerk of the State legislature, afterwards becoming deputy county auditor. This office he held for four years.

Since coming to Salt Lake Mr. Vigus had taken an active part in Republican party activities.

He was born in Columbia, Ky. When a young man he was employed as a telegraph operator. He was promoted to superintendent of the telegraph department of one of the Missouri railroads, and soon advanced to superintendent of the Western Union office of the Chicago board of trade. Later he became a member of the Chicago board. His next position was with the Associated Press at Chicago, where he was employed for several years before coming to Utah. His experience on the Chicago board of trade fitted him to become secretary of the Salt Lake stock exchange, a position which he held for some time. He was the first secretary of the exchange.

Mr. Vigus is survived by his widow, Mrs. Myra J. Vigus and a son, C. Roscoe Vigus. Both live in the Stewart apartments.—Salt Lake Daily.

The above article is from a Salt Lake daily. Mr. Vigus was born and reared in the Glensfork country, Adair county. He was a fine business man when he left with his father and family many years ago. During his long career he filled many important positions. He was an uncle of Mrs. J. W. Coy, this place.

Rook Party.

Miss Frances Strange very delightfully entertained with a progressive Rook party Friday evening.

The house was charmingly decorated with evergreen and Christmas bells.

Between games the hostess' mother served punch to the players.

At the close of the games delicious refreshments consisting of fruit, gelatin and cake were served.

The prizes for the highest scores made were won by Miss Alice Walker and Mr. Doc Walker.

Miss Strange's teacher, Miss Katie Murrell, of the Lindsey-Wilson, was the honor guest.

The following friends enjoyed this delightful gathering: Misses Jennie McFarland, Agnes Hynes, Allene Montgomery, Eva Walker and Alice Walker; Messrs. Doc Walker, Ray Flowers, Billy Cundiff, Edward Hamlett, Strother Hynes, Stewart Hutchison and Guy Stevenson.

Must Settle.

The outstanding business of Blair & Ellis must be settled at once. Therefore, all parties owing the firm are requested to call at the store and make payment, as Mr. Blair will remove from the county.

Our friends are requested to call at once and renew for the year 1920. Next Monday will be the first county court for the New Year, and if you are not in Columbia before that date, call on that day. The News visits weekly every representative home in Adair county and we are proud of the estimate its home friends place upon it.

A great deal of tobacco will be sold at Campbellsville Loose Leaf House in the next ten days. Bring your tobacco to this market.

A Good Citizen Passes.

Mr. Robert H. Cofer, who was one of Adair county's best citizens, died at his late home, near Cane Valley, Sunday morning of last week. He was close to eighty years old, and had been on the decline for several months. He served in the Union army during the war of the rebellion, and was in a number of engagements, the battle of Shiloh being one of the number. He was an honest, industrious citizen, a good money maker until he lost his eye sight about one year ago. Many attended the last sad rites.

Gretna Green.

Sunday night of last week Mr. Dave Smith and Miss Nancy Judd, Mr. Zach Cundiff and Miss Helen Smith, all of Cane Valley, left for Jeffersonville, Ind., in an automobile. Reaching Louisville they crossed the river and in a short time were happily married. When this paper goes to press they will have arrived at home, received forgiveness, and are now being congratulated by their friends.

It is not generally known that Prof. W. G. Aaron, of this county, is principal of the Graded and High School, Eddyville, Ky. He is a diligent, and well qualified teacher and stands high in his home county. He has successfully taught a number of schools in Adair, and we feel satisfied that he has made and will continue to make good at Eddyville. He is strictly honorable, and whatever he undertakes to do he does it well.

A few evenings ago Mr. Ralph Hurt entertained a few special friends with a six o'clock dinner which was a magnificent affair. Those present were Miss Vic Hughes, Mrs. Edwin Cravens, Mr. Leon Lewis and sister, Edna, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reed. After refreshments, several hours were happily spent in dancing.

Dr. C. M. Murrell, Mathersville, Ill., who recently bought a large boundary of land in Mississippi, is now on his plantation, making arrangements for putting out crops. Dr. Murrell is a brother of Dr. J. N. Murrell, this place.

Close Your Ears.

There is a great deal of idle, if not wicked, gossip going on in every neighborhood. It is a mean habit. In this day and generation we rely upon religion and education to stop gossip, but they don't succeed in any great measure.

There is one thing that might be noted, and that is, that the gossip is generally shallow-pated person and hasn't mind enough to take any interest in the pursuit of truth. Her joy is putting some body else in a bad light and turning someone's slight fault into a dark villainy. It is hard to understand how a just woman will pervert herself but there are many who do. The lesson of the day is to turn away and take stock in the realities of life and in the meantime don't believe half you hear.

Married at Fairplay.

Last Friday afternoon Miss Alta Pullum, daughter of Mr. Tom Pullum was married, at her home, to Mr. Munford Lewis, son of Mr. Cap Lewis. Rev. Jo Scott was the officiating clergyman.

The groom has a position in Jeffersonville, and Saturday he and his bride were in Columbia, enroute to his place of business. The groom is an industrious young man, who has many friends, and the bride was a popular young lady of the neighborhood. Their Adair county friends extend their best wishes.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patterson were hosts at a dinner on Christmas Eve. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Patterson, Miss Mary Miller and Mr. Will Welsh, of Hazard, Ky.

Six O'Clock Dinner.

On Friday, Dec. 26, Miss Mary D. Patterson entertained the following at a lovely six o'clock dinner: Misses Susan Miller, Julia Miller, Sarah Coffey, Chelcie Barger, Richard Royse, and Edward Hamlett.

The Self Culture Club met with Mrs. E. B. Barger last Monday afternoon. An interesting program was rendered, the meeting being opened with prayer and a Christmas talk by Mrs. Z. T. Williams. This was followed by a solo, "In Old Judea," by Mrs. Hamlett. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. M. Russell, piano, and Mrs. C. J. Mitchell, violin. Misses Katie Murrell and Allene Montgomery gave delightful Christmas readings. Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Russell rendered a beautiful selection on piano and violin.

Some one has put in circulation that the price of The Adair County News is $2.00 per year in Adair county. The price of the News is $1.50, and while we make nothing at that price, we are publishing it just the same at that price, and will continue to do so. Blank paper that we print The News upon is now $12.00 per hundred. Four years ago we bought it at $3.50. Papers are suspending weekly on account of the high cost of material, but we have enough in this office to run us until next fall, and by that time we hope for a lower market. But up or down, The News is here to stay.

Mr. T. A. Judd has made an enviable reputation at Jellico, Tenn., as a teacher and manager of schools. There are three public schools in that city, the High School, City school and Colored school. They have all been put under the management of prof. Judd. He employs all the teachers and has the supervision of their work. Mr. R. D. Judd also lives in Jellico. He is engaged in the Gent's Furnishing business.

The Russell Springs Basket Ball team came down last Friday night and engaged the Columbia Athletics at the High School Gym. It was a hard fought contest, the result being 29 to 20 in favor of the home team.

Married at Springfield.

On Thursday, the 18th day of December, Miss Pearl Waggoner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Waggoner, was married to Mr. Ezekiel Maeden, a business man of Mobile, Ala.

The latter part of November Miss Nellie Waggoner, sister of the bride above mentioned, to Mr. Walter Humphress, of Marseilles, Ind. Both brides were born and reared a few miles from Columbia and they are very kindly remembered here. Their Adair county friends send congratulations, trusting that their married lives may be crowned with happiness.

I have at my barn in Columbia a lot of good farm mules, ranging in age from two to seven years old. Among them are some good heavy teams. If you want a good team or a single mule call and see them.

S. M. Burdette.

Will Remain Here.

We take pleasure in reporting that Mr. M. O. Stevenson will not leave Adair county. He has purchased Mr. Jo Blair's farm containing one hundred and 35 acres which joins sixty acres already owned by Mr. Stevenson. The consideration for the 135 acres was $7,000. This farm is only a short distance from the farm Mr. Stevenson sold Elsey Young, and is in about one-half mile from the Stanford pike. It is the farm owned at one time by Senator W. F. Neat.

Hamilton—Willis.

Mr. Claud Willis, of this place, who has been employed at Cincinnati for some time, arrived with his bride last Friday. Mrs. Willis was Miss Ruth Hamilton, who lived with her parents, Rev. F. A. Hamilton and wife, in this place, for more than year. While here the bride was a pupil in the High School, from which institution she graduated. She is a very modest and charming in manners, and was quite popular here.

The groom has splendid business attainments, and his services has been in demand since he was old enough to accept positions.

The couple will probably return to Cincinnati this week. At present they are with the groom's mother, at the home of his grandfather, Mr. H. B. Garnett. The father of the groom is Mr. O. P. Willis.

Campbellsville Loose Leaf House will open Friday, Jan. 2. Bring your tobacco in good condition. Plenty of floor room.

Badly Hurt.

Logan Murphey and Bud Yarberry, live near Sparksville, and their farms join. Last Monday they quarreled over the division line. Murphey became desperately mad, picked up an ax and struck Yarberry a fearful blow on the side of the head, crushing his skull, it is said. Two doctors were attending him Tuesday and it was reported that he was in a dangerous condition. Yarberry is only about 19 years old, a son of the late Jayson Yarberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Reed gave a dinner party to the following persons last Friday evening: Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barnett, St. Louis, Misses Enna Lewis and Frances Reed. It was a most delightful affair, the edibles being very choice. After dinner several hours were spent in social converse.

All of the J. M. Montgomery farm was bought by Col. L. T. Neat a short time after the death of Mr. Montgomery for about $4,000. Since that time it has been cut in smaller farms and sold to different parties. Up to now the boundary has brought about $18,000.

Born, to the wife of Leslie L. Vance, Garlin, Dec. 28, a son.

Interesting Deals.

There seems to be no let up in farm deals. A few days ago Tilden Wilcoxson sold his farm, known as the R. K. Young farm, one and a quarter miles from Columbia, on Russell Springs road, to John D. Turner, late of Harlan county, for $18,000. Immediately after this deal was closed Mr. Wilcoxson bought of B. F. Chewning the latter's residence and about forty acres of land, in the edge of town, on Greensburg road, for $8,000. This is desirable property as well as the farm Mr. Wilcoxson sold.

Arm Broken.

Earl, a four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers, had the misfortune to get his left arm broken last Monday. He was playing with other children when he fell with the result as above stated. Dr. O. P. Miller reduced the fracture. This is the second time his left arm has been broken.

Two Big Games.

Somerset Fast Basket Ball Club plays the Athletics here, both Friday and Saturday night. Best games of the season.

Over the Top.

Tampico Lodge was addressed last Saturday by Mr. Gordon Montgomery, on the million dollar drive for the Masonic Widows and Orphan's Home. The quota for that lodge is about seven hundred dollars, and the full amount was virtually raised. The good wives and daughters of the Masons spread a delightful and sumptuous dinner for all present, and all in attendance had a very enjoyable time.

Remember that the Campbellsville Loose Leaf House will open next Friday. There will be plenty of buyers.

Married in Florida.

A clipping, sent by Mr. Alexander Murrell, Champaign, Ill., gives a very elaborate account of the marriage of his brother, Rev. Jesse L. Murrell, which occurred at Miami, Fla., on Christmas day, the bride being Miss Gladys Callahan, of that city. The impressive ring service was used.

Following the marriage the couple will go to Cuba for their honeymoon. The groom is a son of Howard A. Murrell, and is prominent in the Methodist Church.

The Mirror is the name of a new monthly commercial paper just started at Middlesboro. The object of the publication is to point out the resources of South Eastern Kentucky and to also build up the Queen City of the Mountains. A Chamber of Commerce has been organized. We note that A. W. Rhorer has been made a Vice President and J. R. Callison and W. E. Frazier are two of the Board of Directors. The Mirror is a very creditable sheet.

Kentucky petroleum operators received a Christmas gift in the shape of 25 cent boost in crude oil prices, making the price per barrel $3.10. The old price was 79 cents. The Pennsylvania crude oil, the same quality that it is believed will be found here, went up to $4.75 per barrel.

Lyne Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Price, got his right hand badly hurt on Christmas day. He had a cap pistol and a roll of caps in his pocket. In reaching his hand in his pocket, the caps exploded and several of his fingers and the back of his hand were badly burned.

Mr. J. C. Blair, of Garlin, who is one of Adair's best citizens, will remove in a very short time to Iowa. We regret to lose this family, as it stands high in the community where it has resided for a number of years.

Rev. B. T. Watson will preach at Union next Sunday at 11 a. m., and Price's Chapel by request at night.

FACTS ABOUT COAL

Anthracite, Semi-Anthracite, Semi-Bituminous, Bituminous, Sub-Bituminous, and Lignite
Produced in United States

The geological survey of the United States government gives to coal six classifications.

They are: Anthracite, semianthracite, semibituminous, bituminous, sub-bituminous, and lignite. All of these classes are produced in the United States.

Most of the anthracite coal is mined in eastern Pennsylvania. Small areas in the West are placed in the anthracite classification, but are not identical with the Pennsylvania anthracite.

There is very little semianthracite in this country, hence it is but a small factor in the trade.

Semibituminous is of higher rank than bituminous. It has a high percentage of fixed carbon, which makes it almost smokeless. It is regarded as the best coal for steamships, and is used almost exclusively by the navy.

Bituminous coal is produced in a number of grades, but generally speaking, it describes a rank of coal having about equal proportions of volatile matter and fixed carbon. It is only slightly affected chemically by weather, unless it is exposed for several years.

Sub-bituminous is used to designate a rank of coal more generally known as black lignite. It is a clean, domestic coal and ignites readily. It is produced generally in the western states.

Lignite is a product of North Dakota and Texas.

The United States and Alaska have beneath their surfaces more than one-half of the unmined coal reserve of the world.

The total unmined coal reserve throughout the world is officially estimated at 8,154,000,000,000 tons. Of this 548,000,000,000 tons is anthracite, 4,302,000,000,000 is bituminous and 3,304,000,000,000 tons is sub-bituminous and lignite.

The unmined reserve of the United States and Alaska is 4,321,000,000,000 tons, of which 22,000,000,000 is anthracite, 2,155,000,000,000 tons is bituminous and 2,054,000,000,000 tons is lignite and sub-bituminous.

The St. Louis district is the center of the bituminous area, and most of the bituminous coal produced in this country comes from the central group of states in and adjacent to the St. Louis coal-producing district.

HINTS FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

When culling a flock of hens at the end of the laying season, there are always a few individuals that may be classed as doubtful. Very often the owner of the birds allows sympathy to interfere with good business. According to G. W. Hervey of the University of Missouri college of agriculture it is better to cull a bird that may lay five or six more eggs only this fall than to keep her all winter as an absolute expense.

A hen may show the characteristic body depth of three or more fingers and yet may have but a one-finger spread between the pelvic bones. This means that the bird has stopped laying but her period of non-production hasn't been long enough for the body depth to close up also. She has just reached the point where she will be kept at a loss.

Sometimes a bird may exhibit the desired characteristics of both good body depth and well-spread pelvic bones, yet her skin under the fluff may feel tough and leathery. Such a hen will invariably have coarse pelvic bones and a coarse breast bone. She may have had a period of production during the summer, but her total for the year would not justify retaining her another season.

In culling the American breeds, the Wyandotte, Plymouth Rock and Rhode Island Red, one is apt to be confused by the shank color test. The test is not so reliable with these heavier breeds as it is with Leghorns, for the reason that when they become broody a certain amount of pigment is likely to return to the shank. One must make due allowance for this, and if the bird is favorable in appearance otherwise, it may be profitable to keep her over as a breeder for the spring season.

In general, then, the poultry keeper when culling must not be influenced by any single factor, but must consider all of them. The more rigid the culling the more capable is the flock management. It is usually safe to market at least half of the total number of hens at the end of the laying season, replacing them with pullets.

DO YOU KNOW THAT—

In Syria camel's hair is pulled out in the spring and made into waterproof tents, bags and rugs.

On the north of Australia is the greatest coral reef in the world. It is over one thousand miles wide.

Burial Place of William Penn.

The burial place of William Penn was at Jourdan's Meeting House, near Chalfout, St. Giles, in Buckingham, with the remains of his two wives. There was once an effort made to have his remains brought to this country, but it was found impossible to locate the grave, which had not been marked, and the plan was abandoned.

Olive Tree Introduced in Golden State by Priests; Mission Variety Popular

The ancient scrap between Minerva, who gave the olive, and Apollo, who bestowed the horse upon mankind, was decided, as will be remembered, in favor of the lady—the dispute being as to which of the two gifts was the more valuable.

To understand the reason for this decision, one ought to live in the Mediterranean region, where the olive is a vital factor in the lives of the people. They could much more easily spare the equine quadruped.

Olive culture has already assumed great importance in our own country. In 1916 (the latest year for which figures are available) there were in California 834,938 olive trees in bearing, and 515,221 not yet old enough to yield fruit. The state's production in that year was 1,000,000 gallons of olive oil and 1,800,000 gallons of pickled olives. The olive tree was introduced in California by Spanish priests, the first grove being planted in San Diego in 1760. From those trees is descended what is today the most popular variety, the so-called Mission olive.

"No More New Duds Until Prices Go Down," Popular Slogan With Englishmen

Fashionable London tailors are said to be somewhat perturbed over the reported popularity of a clothes conservation "movement" hailing from the United States which is being enthusiastically acclaimed by Englishmen wearied of long continued high clothing costs.

Over there, the "movement" has manifested itself in the organization of "old clothes" leagues—societies with the single-pledge slogan—"no more new clothes until prices go down."

Those who assume this pledge are expected to regard patches on trousers, shiny coatsleeves and sewn-up splits in boots and shoes as badges of honor. The turning of old suits, sewing in of new linings and other necessary alterations which make an old trousers, coat and vest serve the purpose of a new suit at one-third the cost is another part of the practical application of the "league" precepts.

Leave Record of Existence On Ever-Enduring Spirit

It is then obvious that if we desire to live worthily, if we wish to fulfill the great purposes for which we were created, we must leave the record of our existence inscribed on the ever-enduring spirit. The impression there can never be effaced. Time, which obliterates nations and the record of their existence, only renders the lineaments which we trace on mind deeper and more legible. From the very principles of our social nature, moral and intellectual character multiplies indefinitely its own likeness.—Francis Wayland.

Hardy Small Fruit.

Currants and gooseberries are very hardy and withstand extremely low temperatures; in fact, if windbreaks are provided, most varieties are able to withstand the severe conditions in most parts of the upper Mississippi valley and the northern Great Plains area.—Agricultural Department.

WOMEN EXCEED MEN IN JAPANESE FACTORIES

850,000 Japanese Women Work at Average Daily Wage of Ten to Twenty Cents for a Twelve Hour Day.

There are more women in industry in Japan than there are men, according to a statement recently made by the War Work Council of the Young Women's Christian Association.

The world war has brought 850,000 women and girls into the daily grind of industry according to this statement; 30,000 of them little girls under fifteen years of age who work twelve hours a day at a wage of ten to twenty cents a day, that the world may have silk dresses and munitions.

In Tokyo alone, a city of two and one-half million people, there are 100,000 women employed in sixty-two industries and businesses varying from work as telephone operators, clerks, stenographers and bookkeepers to work in silk and other sorts of factories and domestic work.

Each year thousands of these women go back to their homes in the country, broken in health and victims of tuberculosis because of the poor conditions under which they work and live. They are housed in dormitories in the factory compound. These dormitories are frequently unsanitary. The girls work long hours, have no recreation and on finishing their long day go immediately to bed, oftentimes a bed which a girl who works at night has been sleeping in all day.

As part of its world service for women, the Young Women's Christian Association plans to build dormitories in manufacturing towns where girls may live cheaply under healthful physical and social conditions, to send out secretaries who can introduce recreation into the factory compound and direct games and social life.

This is done with the co-operation of the factories' managers and proprietors. One of the most influential of these is Mrs. Suzuki, the most prominent woman manufacturer in Japan, who is owner and manager of a firm which exported $11,000,000 worth of bean oil to America last year.

Recently Mrs. Suzuki decided to employ one thousand women in her offices. She could not find enough well trained ones so she established a permanent school where Japanese girls may be trained to enter the business world. The greatest danger ahead of Japan, she says, is in its growing materialism, and Japan's greatest need, the development of her women.

NATIONAL FRIENDSHIPS DEPEND UPON WOMANKIND

Japanese Diplomat Says Men Alone Cannot Create International Friendliness.

International friendship between nations depends largely upon the friendly feeling between the women of those nations, according to representatives of the Japanese embassy to Washington. Their theory is that there can be no firm friendship between two nations unless the women of those two countries know and like one another, as co-operation between nations, as in the state and in the family, is based on co-operation between men and women.

Therefore, if Japan and America are to have a real, lasting friendship, to really know and understand one another, the women of the two nations must learn to play together, to study together and to think together. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the best mediums for bringing about this friendship between the two nations, according to diplomatic representatives of Japan, as that organization is teaching Japanese women recreation, showing them how to enjoy out-of-door life and sports. It is particularly necessary that Japanese women learn to enjoy and appreciate recreation, they say, since the great influx of women into industry and business, as Japanese women, formerly so conservative, are going into business and doing many things which they had never thought of doing before the war.

The Y. W. C. A. has been assured the fullest possible co-operation of the Japanese embassy and the Japanese people in making its "World Service program" for three million dollars to be used for women and girls in the United States, India, China, Japan, South America, Egypt, Siberia, the Near East and Mexico a success.

Y. W. C. A. TRAINS WOMEN.

Young women students from forty-four states and nine countries—China, the Philippine Islands, France, Bulgaria, Holland, Russia, Armenia, Canada and Mexico—are registered in the National Training School of the Young Women's Christian Association in New York.

They are studying methods of Y. W. C. A. work with a view to taking up positions in Y. W. C. A. work either in this country or in other of the countries where the Y. W. C. A. is carrying on, opening and expanding its work.

Mummies Found in Steam-Heated Cave; Vault Kept Warm by Volcanic Fires

The mummified remains of 13 Aleutians were found in a steam-heated cave on Raganil Island recently, and 11 of them have been taken to the National museum at Washington. The cavern that served as a burial vault was kept warm by volcanic fires. The mummies were wrapped in skins and nets, and were completely dried up. It is supposed that the ancestors of the present island natives mummified their dead because they did not wish to part from them, and not for any religious reason. Their method was to wrap the bodies in the skins and intestinal membranes of sea mammals, place them in a squatting attitude on wooden trays, and hang them up in dry caves. Many of them found are undoubtedly very ancient, but of the origin and history of the race little is known. The Aleutians spoke the Russian language when the islands passed into the possession of the United States, along with Alaska, in 1867. Then until 1884 they were left to govern themselves. They have now forgotten the Russian tongue, and are becoming Americanized. Most of them live in clean wooden houses and wear American clothes. The women weave wonderful fabrics of grass, so finely plaited that they resemble silk.

Word "Nothing" Defined as Meaning Something

Words, says an authority, have an elastic meaning, according to the sense in which they are employed; much also depending on how "nothing" is defined. As sometimes used, "nothing" means something very insignificant, but still something that really exists. For instance, you pick up an empty bottle and say: "There is nothing in it"—but there is air in it. When a person is taken ill he may say: "It is nothing;" but it may turn out to be something that will result in his death. Then again the expression, "He began life with nothing," means that he began with very little. "I have done nothing all day" means that I have accomplished little, not that I have actually done nothing, for that would be impossible. Such uses of words are proper, according to common sense as well as authority. Dryden wrote: "Tis nothing, says the fool; but, says the friend, this nothing, sir, will bring you to your end."

THOUGHTS OF WISE MEN

Discontents arise from our desires oftener than from our wants.

Getting on is largely a matter of getting up each time you are knocked down.

Sorrow does not really change people; it only develops what is already in them. That which they bring to it they will reap from it.

The mood in which we begin a day makes us a discordant note or helps the harmony of every circle in which we find ourselves.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG

Noted Physician and Writer Says We Should Live From 90 to 105 Years of Age

Dr. Josiah Oldfield of London, known internationally as a physician and a writer, has published a prescription for keeping old age at bay.

According to him, it is not a question of an operation, but a daily diet, which includes dandelion leaves, fowls' eggs, grapes, lettuce, cow's milk, water-cress, honey and salads (uncooked).

"Old age," he says, "is largely caused by deposit in the blood vessels and cells of the body of waste matter. So by adopting a part fruitarian diet a man, however old, may become young again, because every cell in the body will be replaced by new young cells."

Doctor Oldfield argues that normal persons, rightly fed, should live from ninety to one hundred and five years of age.

ARMY REMOUNT BOARD AT WORK

NEW ACTIVITY OF GOVERNMENT HAS ALREADY DISTRIBUTED FIFTY STALLIONS.

MEMBERS AGREE ON POLICY

Runners and Trotters Are Best Types and Racing Should be Encouraged to the End that Production Shall be Continuous.

Army Remount.

The new Army Remount Board, which has undertaken the task of providing the forces of national defense with horses of the proper sort, has established headquarters in Washington and begun functioning. Already this board, which is made up of a mixed military and civilian personnel, has distributed through the country, in districts suited to the quick production of half-bred horses of robust types, the fifty-odd thoroughbred stallions, most of them the gifts to the government of horsemen and persons interested in racing and thoroughbred production, that had previously been acquired by the war department through the remount board that was called into being during the progress of the great war.

The military members of the permanent remount board are Major General William G. Snow and Jesse McL. Carter, Colonel F. S. Armstrong, John S. Fair, Bruce Palmer and George H. Cameron, Lieutenant Colonel John F. Taulbee and Major Hayden Channing. Major Channing will not be classed as a military representative on the board long. When he leaves the service, which he entered for the term of the war, he will become one of New England's civilian representatives.

Well-Known Men on Board.

The civilian members of the remount board are Major August Belmont, chairman of the Jockey Club of New York, and one of the foremost thoroughbred producers of the United States; Dr. John H. Mohler, of Washington; Arthur B. Hancock, proprietor of the Ellerslie stud, of Virginia, and the Claiborne stud, of Kentucky, and another great thoroughbred producer, his Ellerslie and Claiborne yearlings having fetched a total of more than $150,000 at the recent Saratoga sales; F. Ambrose Clark, of New York; Algernon Daingerfield, the assistant secretary of the Jockey Club; Major Robert E. Strawbridge, of Pennsylvania; Thomas Hitchcock, of New York, and Captain Philip M. Walker, of Virginia. Captain Walker, a retired officer of the regular service of the United States army, is a breeder of thoroughbreds in Clarke County, Virginia.

The military personnel of this board is not to be permanent. Instead of picking the men best fitted by knowledge and experience for the work of directing, in conjunction with the civilian membership, the production of horses for the three great combat branches of the military service—cavalry, artillery and transport—and giving them permanent billets, the war department has intimated that it must for fear of violating a century-old tradition, shift the military members of the board from time to time so as to give other officers their opportunities. This sort of rotation is calculated to prove wasteful and ineffective, but war departments the world over are sticklers for traditional routine and there is not help for it.

Two Types of Horses.

The situation, as regards the work of the United States Army Remount Board may be saved by permanent civilian membership. There can be no question of the sound sense and practical knowledge of breeds of horses and of their general and specific usefulness of the civilian members of the board. To the success of Major Belmont, whose Nursery stud has been represented on American tracks this season by Lucille, the country's greatest thoroughbred of mature years; by Man O'War, the outstanding champion among the two-year-olds; and by Mad Hatter; and of Mr. Hancock, reference has already been made. Major Hitchcock has won distinction these twenty-five years as a developer of cross-country performers. Mr. Clark, like Mr. Hitchcock, has been associated with steeplechasing in the east, and he has in the course of the last two years rendered signal service and without compensation to the army as a civilian member of the war-time remount board. Major Strawbridge and Major Channing have spent the better part of a quarter of a century developing horses of the so-called hunter type, which are the sort that have rendered the most efficient service to the armies of France and England in the world struggle for liberty. Since the civilian membership is to be permanent it is inevitable that the influence of the civilian members will be powerful, if it is not controlling, in the shaping of the policy of the remount board.

Today the remount board, as regards both the military and civilian elements, is a unit on the proposition that the association between effective national defense and the two types of horses that have not succumbed to the overwhelming competition of the automobile and the motor truck, which Americans call thoroughbreds—the runner and the trotter—is of sovereign importance. The board is agreed to a man that not only must there be no further interference through the agency of legislation hostile to horse racing, state or national, with the continuous production of runners and trotters, but that the government must find a means, as was suggested by the bureau of animal industry as far back as 1911, of stimulating the production of running and trotting types.

Racing to be Encouraged.

If the running and trotting types were not the only light types available for the work of creating a special army horse, it would be necessary to give them the biggest roles in the scheme of military horse supply because they are tougher and more enduring than other types. The life of the thoroughbred runner, independently of casualties, in France between 1914 and 1918, was twenty-one days. The life of the half-bred was about seventeen days. The life of the trotter was about fifteen days. The ordinary cold-blooded horse lasted no more than four or five days. The trotter more nearly approaches the so-called running thoroughbred in quality than any other light horse known in this or in any other country, because the basic stock of the trotting and pacing families was thoroughbred. The trotting and pacing families were founded about a century ago by the thoroughbred stallions Messenger and Mainbrino, and their bottom has been sustained from time to time by fresh infusions of thoroughbred blood, mainly on the distaff side.

There are more thoroughbred runners and trotters available for this work of national defense than there are horses of other breeds because the maintenance of running and harness racing by individual enterprise, in spite of the difficulties ill-advised and half-baked legislation in various parts of the country impose, has served to make the continued production of thoroughbred runners and trotters profitable to farmers and stockmen. The farm tractor and the automobile and the motor truck have practically put out of commission the other light types which formerly were considered serviceable in a military sense. The only horses farmers are breeding nowadays in considerable numbers are the heavy draught types, because it is for these types only that a profitable market can be found.—Advt.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS.

Now that the Christmas of 1919 has come and passed into history with all the rest of the nineteen hundred odd years that have elapsed since the event that gave rise to the year's happiest celebration, the minds of men and women turn to the new year, and the "resolution making" period arrives.

The fact that the greater part of these resolutions are broken before the new year is many weeks or months old should not deter us from continuing the practice of forming new resolves and we should determine that we at least will be among those who at the end of 1920 will have the satisfaction of knowing that we have faithfully kept the compact with ourselves.

Self-denial has ever been the main theme of the major part of these new year resolutions. In those almost forgotten times, before memorable July 1, 1919, the closing night of the year was a favorite time for bidding farewell forever to John Barleycorn and his allies—the bubbling wine and the foaming stean.

My Lady Nicotine also received many a sad jolt, from which she recovered in due time, and the man who was loudest in his protestations that he was done forever and for aye with the seductive charms that come from the weed was in a few months, or a short time at best, drawing solace from the pipe of briar or meerschaum, or from a fragrant Havana, stogie or cigarette.

Of course there were countless other resolves that were given more or less publicity around the festal boards that groaned and some time roared because of the choice viands and the tempting decanters and iced pails that adorned the tables, but in the main those mentioned were prime favorites.

And self-denial was the principal. Mankind of hankers after punishing himself, he feels rather like a hero when he feels that he is bearing up under deprivations of which he himself is the instigator.

But this New Year's Eve there will be no need of wasting time over "swearings off" of the cup that cheers and sometimes inebriates. A will stronger than our own has spoken, and the day of the distinction between the various grades of drinkers or tipplers is supposed to have vanished from the earth.

But there is ample room for other resolves. One that should appeal to all is that the resolution maker intends to "get ahead" in 1920. There are opportunities that may never come again. The world is just recovering from the most devastating war that history can recount. The surpluses are exhausted in every corner of the earth. There was never such a demand for raw materials. Manufactured articles are sold months before they are made, and the entire world is crying out for increased production.

Salaries are higher than they ever were, and wages are now higher than salaries were before this new era set in. But if the toiler spends his income as fast as he receives it, all this wonderful opportunity means nothing to his future. When the reaction comes, he will be in no better position to battle with the world than he was in the olden times when dollars were scarce and jobs were not so abundant.

Elizabeth Griffith, seventeen years old, who was to have been married to Capt. George K. Jordan, who is located at Camp Taylor, on New Year's Day, was evidently murdered in Dr. Christopher G. Schott's office, in Louisville, last Wednesday afternoon. Developments so far shows that Dr. Schott was also in love with the girl and had offered to marry her. There were no arrests up to Friday morning, and the detectives seem to be at a loss as to who killed the girl. Dr. Schott says he is satisfied that she killed herself. Well. Later, — Since writing the above, Dr. Schott has been arrested, charged with murdering the girl, and to us it looks like the authorities have a plain case against him.

On the day after Christmas most people pick up the wrapping paper and string scattered about and ask themselves whether they really had as much joy and pleasure from the giving and receiving of gifts as they ought to have had. They know that those to whom they gave, liked and appreciated the spirit which led to the giving, but did they like the gifts? If they did not you will never know, and it is right that you should not know.

Looking Backward.

[By Albert Bryant.]

Almost one year has passed since three thousand doughboys of the first pioneer Infantry, Veterans of three battle fronts in France, after the remarkable "military feat" of marching through rain and mud over mountains and through the valleys for a distance of two hundred miles, come to the edge of the hills and there before them in the winter's snow-light lay the great valley of the Rhine filled with cities, factories and farms. The men gave way to great outbursts of joy when they realized the goal for which they had so long striven was close at hand.

Passing through Coblenz, Germany, a city of 60,000 population and the town which was to be headquarters of the Third American Army, marching passed the statue of Wilhelm I at the junction of the Moselle and Rhine rivers, they commenced at 3:20 p. m. Dec., 14, 1918, crossing the historic Rhine on the pontoon bridge (schiffbrücke); on reaching the right bank of the river they turned to the north marching to the town of Vallend or Germany, about 10 kilometers from the point of crossing the rivers. This is an industrial small town, and on the hills above it is "Monte-Casino" a favorite spot for the excursionists, who find her beautiful prospects of the Rhine valley. The stay at this place was very short, for after four days of rest they were ordered to again "Roll pack" and "Sling equipment" and march up the East bank of the river to the ancient fortress of Ehrenbreistein, thus having the honor of being the first American troops to occupy this noted fortress. It occupies the summit of a precipitous rock nearly four hundred feet high, opposite the city of Coblenz, and is called the "Gibraltar of the Rhine" on summer evenings when the setting sun is shining low upon the the rocks you may fancy a glowing hill beaming with red fireworks.

These men, that were to garrison this fort, were men that had hiked along the Aisne months before; had waded streams, slept in shell holes and smiled on to victory in the Oise-Aisne drive, again in the Marne-Aisne, and later in the Meuseargonne, they had done their bit in humiliating the Hun. It was a strange thing indeed for 3000 American soldiers to spend Christmas on top of this great rock hundreds of feet above the swiftly flowing Rhine. A magnificent Christmas tree had been erected on the battlements overlooking the city of Coblenz. The Regimental Band played Carols under the tree on Christmas Eve. The parade ground was white with snow and as the soldiers gathered around all seemed very unreal. Most of the men were indeed occupied with thoughts of home and loved ones, and believing in their hearts that the next Christmas would be celebrated in the true spirit of "Peace on earth, and good will toward men" but alas! their hopes have in a measure been shattered by partisan politicians, but let us hope that the rent will soon be mended and ere long the Peace treaty ratified and the League of Nations established, thereby assuring to the fathers and mothers of this great Republic of ours that the sacrifices they so nobly made will not have been made in vain.

Cane Valley.

While our town is on the pike and the passing is almost constant, nothing has occurred here, since my last letter, of a startling nature. The young society folks are getting ready for the holidays and the band boys are practicing some new selections, and expect to make the welkin ring on the night of the 25th.

In the afternoon of the 27th the Masonic Lodge at this place will meet for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. Every member is requested to be present. Another important matter will come before the body and the fraternity will be addressed by Mr. Gordon Montgomery, of Columbia. He has a message that no member should fail to hear.

The new bank recently started at this place is gradually growing in favor. Mr. Dennis Eubank, who is the cashier, has a smile and a shake for ever customer, and ere long he believes that the stock holders will be proud of the institution.

The morals of Cane Valley were never better. It is a rare thing to see a man in his cups on our street. Even those who use to be fond of the obnoxious are glad that John Barley Corn has been put to sleep to awaken never again.

The hunting season is over here and very few birds were killed.

Jamestown.

There is some talk of installing an electric light plant at this place.

It is said that a number of dwellings will be erected in this place early in the spring. A majority of the building lots that were purchased in this place, at the public sale, last October, are to be adorned with nice buildings. When the plant is installed, concrete walks made all over town, and the new buildings erected. Jamestown will be an inviting place. Pride and love for the old home town should stimulate the people.

The young people of this community are planning for a big time during the holidays. There will be a number of social gatherings and a Christmas tree. The tree is usually planted in the court auditorium, and people for miles around come in.

The bank at this place is having an unusually large run of business. The deposits are increasing, and there is a good demand for money. Mr. Walter McKinney, who has been the cashier since the death of Mr. J. N. Meadows, is a fine business man and has the confidence of the patrons.

We learn that Mr. Elmer Wheat, of this place, who has been elected cashier of the First National Bank of Russell Springs, who succeeded Mr. Robt. Ingram, is giving entire satisfaction. He too is well qualified and has many friends over the county.

Mrs. A. G. Hill, who lost her husband recently, takes this method of returning her grateful and heartfelt thanks to all those who attended him during his illness. No friends are held in so grateful esteem as those who stood by you in hours of distress and deepest trouble.

CHINESE WOMEN STUDY HEALTH

Three Doctors Return From America to Begin Active Health Campaign Among Women.

ALL AGENCIES COMBINE.

American Y. W. C. A. Will Support
Women's Part of Chinese Health
Campaign as Part of World Service Program.

As a result of the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, held during September and October, Chinese women are to have a far-reaching health program.

Dr. Ida Kahn, Dr. Li Bi-Chu and Dr. Dau, three of China's half hundred women physicians, who, attended this conference, are to take an active part in promoting this health program for women which will be the share of the Y. W. C. A. in the big health movement in China.

The funds for establishing these health centers, for demonstrations of how to care for babies, for health lectures for the women, for babies' dispensaries and for a general educational campaign, will be raised by the American Y. W. C. A. as part of its program of world service for women and girls in 1920.

Dr. Ida Kahn, in a recent appeal to modern Chinese women said, "Let our women of education in Peking and elsewhere gather themselves together to work for the schools, Red Cross and Y. W. C. A., and everything else which bespeaks the betterment of the country, instead of staying at home to play poker and 'sparrow,' and going out to attend endless dinners, tea parties and dances."

"Let us rally our forces and help the ship of state to move safely. One person cannot accomplish much, but one or two hundred millions of women can work wonders. Let us go back to a more Spartan-like simplicity of living and let us build up social service until every city in China is sanitary, every section of the town has its proper schools, and every child, whether boy or girl, is sent to such schools. True social service brings democracy in its train, and we who are citizens of a new republic can help to make it truly great by preaching and living democracy all the time. Why not learn to do our household duties, deeming it effeminate to be waited upon by maids and slave girls all the time?"

"The status of women in China, while leaving much to be desired, still is quite hopeful when we consider that she is just emerging into the sisterhood of the nations. Our men can depend upon us to bear the burdens of the day, for nowhere is there a more industrious, diligent and persevering womanhood than in China."

Dr. Kahn is lecturing in this country on the needs of her fellow country women, in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Educational Campaign which plans to acquaint people with all phases of Y. W. C. A. work in the United States, South America, China, Japan, India and Europe. This educational campaign will be followed by an active effort to raise the $3,000,000 needed for service for women throughout the world.

CHINESE WOMEN HAVE FINANCIAL ABILITY.

They Carried Y. W. C. A. Campaign "Over the Top."

Much has been said about the honesty and skill of the Chinese business man. The world has neglected to mention the financial ability of Chinese women. They proved this ability in the last financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Tientsin.

Ordinarily three weeks are allowed in which to raise the budget by subscription after the finance committee has decided upon the sum necessary to carry on the work of the coming year. The Tientsin campaign was carried on entirely by Chinese women and broke all records by going over $100,000 in ten days with a large surplus over the budget.

"Home, Sweet Home" Has Never Been Translated Into Foreign Language.

"Home, Sweet Home," one of most heart-touching and popular songs ever written; one which, it would seem, would make an appeal to all mankind, has never been satisfactorily translated into any foreign language, for the simple reason that in no other language is there a word expressing the ideas and associations which are aroused by the simple English word "home."

The Italian and Spanish "casa," the German "haus" and the Russian "doma" all refer to a building of some kind, and have none of the associations which cluster round the precious English word. The German "heim" is too general to have any particular value.

A Frenchman once translated the hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," and in his hands the beautiful line "The night is dark, and I am far from home" became "La nuit est sombre, et je suis loin de mon foyer," he having been obliged to use for "home" the French word which describes the greenroom of a theater.

Just where "home" is has often been the subject for legal dispute, and it has been generally held that it depends entirely upon the circumstances under which the word was used—it may be a country, a region, a city or a house.

Mother's Cook Book.

During the years in which we live, life will never be again as leisurely and care-free as it has been. The magnitude and importance of the problems of reconstruction of the world's torn mental and material fabric are too great for genial toleration in the future, as in the past, of the mental shrink or the spendthrift of time, and there will be no such toleration.—President Hopkins, Dartmouth College.

Food for Young Children.

A little child who is carefully fed, receives each day at least one food from each of the following groups: Milk, or dishes made of milk; fish, poultry, and eggs.

Bread and other cereal foods. Butter and other wholesome fats. Vegetables and fruits. Simple sweets.

Milk, the natural food for the child, is the most important. A quart of milk a day is the usual required allowance. The greater part of this is given as a drink or on cereals, or with bread, as bread and milk.

Milk is served on fruits that are mildly acid, such as pears, baked apples and berries. Milk is used in soups, custards, junkets and in the place of water for gruels and cereals.

Compared with other foods milk contains much lime but little iron. For this reason egg yolk is always a much needed food to supply the iron. Spinach is also rich in iron.

Milk, besides its other good properties, contains a substance which promotes growth. There is apparently no food which can serve so well as a basis for the diet of the healthy child.

Bread and milk may well be the chief, if not the only dish, in the supper for little children. If the milk is not rich, spread the bread with butter. Bread should be at least twenty-four hours old. Toast or crackers may be served occasionally.

Cereals well cooked to soften the fiber, make especially good breakfast dishes as well as desserts. Cereals may be cooked in skim milk, thus giving the child the additional nourishment of the milk which is as good as whole milk if a bit of butter is added.

Rice baked in a slow oven will absorb six times its volume of skim milk. With a few raisins and a bit of sugar this makes an ideal dessert.

Other than fresh milk, such as condensed, evaporated or powdered milk should never be used for children when it is possible to get the fresh milk.

Another way to serve milk to children is in milk soups. The following is a good recipe which may be varied with any thoroughly cooked and rice vegetable: Take two cupsful of milk, one tablespoonful each of flour and butter well mixed, a little salt and two-thirds of a cupful of mashed vegetable. Cook until smooth and not too thick. It may be thinned with a starchy vegetable is used.

Gulf Stream Increases in Volume of Heat En Route

The gulf stream would be little felt on the coast of Europe did it not receive a great addition to its volume of heat when en route. This is by means of a gentle flow from the northeast trade wind current that passes outside the Caribbean islands and the Bahamas. The surface temperature of this outside current is about the same in its passage along the West Indian Islands as the gulf stream in the Straits of Florida, but it is less violent in its movements, and there is less intermingling of its upper and lower waters, so that it arrives off Cape Hatteras with a much higher temperature than that of the more turbulent gulf stream.

BETTER PROVISION PROMISED PASTORS

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN WILL RAISE BIG SUM FOR RETIRED MINISTERS.

CARE FOR THE WIDOWS, TOO

Total of $5,000,000 Included On Program For This Purpose—Insurance Feature Also Included.

REV. J. M. RUSSELL
Typical Retired Minister.

While the salaries paid the ministers of Baptist, as well as other churches in the South, have been far too small in the past to enable them to lay aside a competency for old age, a long step in remedying this situation is promised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, which proposes to raise $2,500,000 for the relief of aged ministers during the next five years, and then bring this sum up to $5,000,000 during the two years immediately following the campaign.

Looking to the adequate care of hundreds of aged Baptist ministers and ministers' widows in the ranks of the Southern Baptist Convention who are now in need of financial assistance, this body, at a recent session, authorized the creation of the Relief and Annuity Board of Dallas, Texas, with Dr. William Lunsford as corresponding secretary.

Heretofore the average annual salary of Baptist ministers in the South has been less than $500, meaning that a large number of preachers received considerably less than that sum, making it necessary that they engage in other occupations during the week in order to support themselves and their families, and rendering it practically impossible for them to lay aside any money as a support for their old age.

The establishment of the Relief and Annuity Board and the decision to raise $5,000,000 during the next seven years for the relief of the aged ministers already in need of assistance and the more adequate care of the men who hereafter give their lives to the Christian ministry without an opportunity to save up a competency to tide them through sickness or care for them in their declining days, has met with a cordial reception at the hands of Southern Baptists, and it is believed the provision of better treatment for the ministers in their retirement will not only tend to cause young men to look with greater favor upon the ministry as a life work, but will bring the members of local congregations generally to see the need of paying pastors more adequate salaries before these pastors become old and helpless.

By the addition of an annuity feature it is possible for retired ministers to receive an annuity of $500 after they have reached the age of 63, and provided they have been in the ministry for thirty years. If they have served less than 30 years the annuity is reduced by a certain proportion. To participate in this annuity a minister must make monthly, quarterly or annual payments sufficient to bring in an income of $100 per year when invested, on the principle of regular life insurance, while this is supplemented by $400 provided by the denomination. A minister's participation in the annuity fund is in addition to his claims upon the relief fund.

If the minister is disabled at any time after joining the annuity fund he will receive a certain annuity throughout the period of disability. If he dies his widow will receive an annuity of 60 per cent of what would have gone to her husband as long as she lives, and should the widow die her annuity will be divided among minor children until they become self-supporting, marry or reach the age of 21.

The board has received an endowment of $100,000 from the Baptist Sun Day School Board at Nashville not included in the 75 Million Campaign, and this sum will be divided equally between the relief and annuity departments. This enables the board to begin work immediately and assistance is already being given to 255 aged ministers and ministers' widows.

AS THE DAY BREAKS

 I pray you what is asleep?
 The lily pads, and ripples and the reeds;
 No longer inward do the waters creep,
 No longer outwardly their force recedes.
 The windowed Night, in blackness wide and deep,
 Resumes her weeds.

 I pray you, what's awake?
 A host of stars, the long, long milky way
 That stretches out, a glistening silver flake,
 All glorious beneath the moon's cold
 ray,
 And myriad reflections on the lake
 Where star-gleams lay.

 I pray you, what's astir?
 Why, naught but rustling leaves, dry,

 The East's broad gates are yet a dusky
 blur,
 And star-gems twinkle in fair Luna's
 crown,
 And minor chords of wailing winds that were Die slowly down.

 I pray you what's o'clock?
 Nay, who shall answer that but gray-stoled dawn?
 See how from out the shadows looms yon
 rock,
 Like some great figure on a canvas
 drawn;
 And heard you not the crowing of the cock?
 The night is gone. —Ernest McGaffey.

Ducks and Birds Can Fly From Surface of the Water

 Canvas-back and red-head ducks,
 which are very quick of movement, after deep diving are capable of taking flight immediately upon coming to the surface of the water. They do not spring directly upward into the air, but fly at first at an angle until they reach the desired elevation. Surfacefeeding wild fowl, like the black duck, pintail and teal, fly directly upward from the surface of the water if the emergency demands it.

Primitive Race of Head Hunters Displayed Art in Preserving Trophies

 A very primitive race are the Jivaro Indians of Ecuador. They and the Mundrucus tribe of northern central Brazil have long been known as modern head hunters. Although the practice is now forbidden by their governments, it is said that it still persists.
 The Ecuador Indians counted human heads among their war trophies, and to win the heart of a maiden of the tribe it was necessary for the suitor to prove his skill for war bringing to the father of his favorite maiden one or more enemy heads.

 The Jivaro have a process of taking such a head and shrinking it until it is no larger than an average doll's head. It is then mounted on a short stick and carried in triumph by the warrior. The head with part of the neck is severed from the body. A cut is made from the base of the skull down through the skin of the neck.
 The bones are carefully removed and the shrinking process begins. A number of hot stones are put into the skin, which is constantly turned to bring them in contact with all parts of it.
 It is said that the process sometimes continues two weeks before the head is reduced to the desired size.

 In some places a single stone, nearly the size of the head, is first used, then a smaller one and so on until the work is completed. Cords are generally attached to the lips, and one is run through the top of the head to suspend it by. The cut in the back of the neck is sewed up and the trophy is complete.

Brazil's Richest Mineral Zone in Heart of Republic in State of Minas Geraes

 The richest mineral zone of Brazil lies in the heart of the republic, in the state of Minas Geraes. But throughout the central and northwestern provinces there abounds a wealth of gold, silver, iron, manganese, diamonds and other precious stones, says the Scientific American. At the present time, however, only a small portion of the valuable beds of mineral is being worked. Doubtless existing unsatisfactory mining laws, as well as lack of fuel and transportation facilities, are responsible for this condition. Practically the only deposits being exploited at the present time are those of manganese situated near the railroads.
 The largest of these is the Mina do Morro, which played a prominent part in American life during the war, large quantities of this mineral being required in the manufacture of steel.
 Over a road ballasted with the valuable manganese ore, the train bearing the visitor climbs to the top of a mountain of manganese, where the actual process of mining is carried out in the open air. This appears to consist of literally nothing else than the digging or dynamiting off of a hillside and the carting away of the fragments.

Campaign Against Dust Blasts

Prepared by U. S. Department of Agriculture

One of the worst enemies of all grain interests—the grain-dust explosion—has reappeared so menacingly in recent months that the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture, backed by the United States Grain corporation has stripped for action, determined to fight to a finish this monster whose middle name is Carelessness. In a number of cities where grain is handled special meetings are being held under the auspices of the Destruction of a Mill Caused by a Dust Explosion.

United States department of agriculture and United States Grain corporation, at which motion pictures of explosions, actual small-scale demonstration explosions, and addresses on the grain-dust menace are being given.

An effort is made to get every man interested in grain handling to attend this meeting as well as representatives of fire insurance companies and the authorities of state and city fire departments. The meetings are open to the public.

One of the startling facts brought out at the meetings, showing the need of greater vigilance in the matter of explosion prevention, is that five terrific grain blasts have occurred since last May, causing a loss of 70 lives and property valued at $6,000,000, besides large stores of grain. This record is in marked contrast to that of the war period, when for 20 months no explosions occurred, showing that these blasts are preventable when proper precautions are taken.

SMILES FOR ALL

The Esthetic Judge.
 "That doctor can't reset my broken nose by himself," declared the incomparable movie actress.
 "But he's a competent surgeon."
 "No matter. I must have a sculptor present."

His Good Point.
 "Papa," said the
 little boy, "has the devil got a tail?"
 "Some folks say so," answered the father.
 "Geel! That would be nice!"
 "Nice? And
 why?"
 "Because he can tie it to his little boy's wagon and pull him around."

The Plain Facts.
 "Some of these elderly spinsters act
 as if they thought every man was a gay Lothario."
 "That's a serious mistake. The average man lacks both the price and the nerve to be a gay Lothario."

A New Bird.
 "What has become of the frigate bird?"
 "Dunno. I think I saw an automobile bird yesterday."
 "What d'ye mean, automobile bird?"
 "Anyhow, it was honking."

Pleasant News.
 "Algy, I hope
 you are not marrying me for my money."
 "Perish the thought."
 "Then that's all right. Dad tells me he's about to fail."

TAKE

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

You can rely on Cardui.
 Surely it will do for you
 what it has done for so many thousands of other women! It should help.
 "I was taken sick,
 seemed to be . . ."
 writes Mrs. Mary E. Veste, of Madison Heights, Va.
 "I got down so weak,
 could hardly walk . . .
 just staggered around.
 . . . I read of Cardui, and after taking one bottle, or before taking quite all, I felt much better. I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when rundown. I had no appetite, and I commenced eating.
 It is the best tonic I ever saw." Try Cardui.

Three Big Savings For The Thrifty Housewife.

Very few homes indeed do not feel the need of economy—of conservation. The necessity of making every penny count touches the purse of practically every housewife.

It is doubtful if there is any single article employed as a food or in preparation of food that demands more buying wisdom than Baking Powder.

Some day, boys and girls, your mother and father will leave you behind to go to a better home. That parting is always heart breaking and sad for you, but the sharp edge will be taken off after a while if you have no regrets about the respect and love you have given them. Only when you are fathers and mothers yourselves can you realize the deep happiness your little kindly acts give them, or how great is their sorrow when you forget and neglect them. Don't grow so accustomed to them that you treat them like pieces of furniture, made merely for your comfort and use. Love and cherish them, for some day their going will leave a terrible void in your heart and the wound will be more easily healed if you can look back and remember different times when you have given them joy and pleasure. In the average home, no matter what the children do for their parents, it doesn't even pay the interest on the debt of love and sacrifice which they owe them—Contributor to Lebanon Enterprise.
